About Me

Hello, my name is Andrea Guidera. I am a wife, mother, and tennis player who has a passion for jewellery and fragrance photography. I create re-imagined bead jewellery from reclaimed second-hand pieces. I also have an extensive collection of vintage and modern perfume bottles. I have been using my photography skills to visually promote my work and I would like to help you elevate your products and brand through strong and creative visuals.

JEWELLERY & FRAGRANCE PHOTOGRAPHY

I help handmade brands look premium online and increase perceived value.

Jewellery Photography

As a small artisan jewellery creator, I can appreciate imaginative and well-thoughtout pieces. I understand colours and textures; which is where I can help you by producing high-end visuals for your online and print mediums.

Fragrance Photography

By translating invisible, olfactory experiences into sensory visual stories, I can help you drive your sales through photography that will provoke emotion and desire.
